Double victory and another top ranking in the reader poll by promobil and Caravaning

A major success for AL-KO Vehicle Technology: In the Best Brand 2026 reader poll conducted by the renowned German trade magazines promobil and Caravaning, AL-KO received multiple awards. The company achieved first place in the categories Motorhome Chassis Technology and Caravan Manoeuvring Systems, as well as second place in the category Levelling Systems.

The reader poll organised by Motor Presse Verlag, which once again saw participation from many thousands of camping enthusiasts, is regarded as an important benchmark for brand trust, product quality and innovative strength within the leisure vehicle market. The results clearly demonstrate which manufacturers are perceived by users as particularly reliable and high-performing.

For AL-KO, these awards represent further confirmation of the company's consistent focus on quality, safety and technological advancement. In the category Motorhome Chassis Technology alone, AL-KO has already been named Best Brand more than a dozen times in recent years.

The official award ceremony took place on 17 January during an event organised by Motor Presse Verlag at the CMT – The Holiday Exhibition in Stuttgart.

Harald Hiller, President & CEO of AL-KO Vehicle Technology Group: “These awards are a special recognition for us, as they are based directly on the trust and experience of users. The consistently positive ratings of our products confirm our high standards in terms of quality, reliability and innovation. We would like to sincerely thank all participants in the reader poll and will continue to develop solutions that deliver comfort, safety and quality at the highest level.”
